

THAW TRIAL A COSTLY AFFAIR

Some Idea Of What It Has Cost In Time And Money To State Of New York.

MR. JEROME WINS HIS POINT TODAY

Brother Of Dead Man Is Admitted As Competent To Give Testimony As To A Conversation With Prisoner.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, March 12.—The trial of Harry K. Thaw for his life for the murder of Stanford White has realized the predictions made at its beginning that it would become the most famous in the history of criminal trials in America. The long trial has been a record-breaking one in many respects.

One of the most interesting sidelights on the famous case is afforded by a comparison of the amount of publicity it has received, with the amount of newspaper space given to other history-making events of recent times.

Since the date of the beginning of the trial, January 23, the leading newspapers of New York City have devoted more than 5,000 columns to the case. The estimated number of words ranges between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000. Placed end to end the columns would stretch over one and three-fourth statute miles. The columns of space devoted to accounts of the trial by the daily press of the entire country, if the columns were placed end to end, would form a band of paper long enough to stretch from New York City beyond Philadelphia.

One hundred and forty-two pictures of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw appeared in the daily newspapers of New York in a single week. The number printed in New York during the entire period of the trial runs into the thousands, while for the country at large the total can be figured only by tens of thousands.

The Thaw trial at its most sensational stage attracted as much attention from the newspapers of Europe did the war between the United States and Spain.

The space devoted to the case by the American press greatly exceeds in amount the space given to the assassination of President McKinley and as the subsequent trial and electrocution of the assassin.

More space has been given to accounts of the Thaw case than the total amount devoted to accounts of the ten most famous murder trials that have taken place in America in recent years. These include the two trials of Roland Molino, the three trials of "Nan" Patterson, and the trials of Albert T. Patrick, Lizzie Borden, Johann Hoch and the murderers of Dr. P. H. Cronin in Chicago.

It is believed that the entire cost of the trial for both sides will total nearly $1,250,000.

A half million dollars is placed as the minimum figure for the cost of counsel to the defense. Added to this the cost of expert testimony, the hotel accommodations for witnesses and a hundred and one incidentals that have to be paid for at extravagant rates the result will be that the Thaw fortune must be depleted to the extent of at least $1,000,000 before the case is ended. Future developments may run the amount up to a much higher figure.

The cost to the state also will be very heavy. The salaries of the presiding judge and of the district attorney, exclusive of the latter's assistants, amount to $4,000 since the commencement of the trial.

When the trial is concluded there will be a bill of several thousand dollars for stenographers' services.

The cost of talesmen at $3 a day will exceed $2,500.

The cost of hotel accommodations will amount to not less than $3,000.

Cost of bailiffs and guards $2,000.

At today's session after the counsel had spent more than two hours of the morning session of the Thaw trial in argument, Justice Fitzgerald overruled the objection of the defense in the matter of allowing District Attorney Jerome to continue his examination of James Clinch Smith, brother-in-law of Stanford White.

The objection had been pending since adjournment yesterday. Smith had a conversation with Thaw on the Madison Square Roof Garden just before White was killed. Jerome said the conversation had a very important bearing on the case and that he had not learned of the conversation himself until Smith returned from Europe last month after the prosecution's case in chief had been closed.

Attorney Delmas, for the defense, fought the introduction of this testimony to the last, but Justice Fitzgerald ruled in the interest of justice it should be admitted.

Jerome thereupon asked that the taking of Smith's testimony be postponed until this afternoon. Jerome then called another policeman, who saw Thaw the night of the tragedy and who declared today the defendant acted rationally.

Jerome also called Dr. Carlton Flint, to whom Evelyn Nesbit is said to have gone in 1902 with "Jack" Barrymore, the actor. Delmas promptly objected to Flint's testimony on the same grounds he has offered against other evidence of collateral facts tending to contradict young Mrs. Thaw's testimony. The district attorney seemed to anticipate an objection, and said he did not care to argue the point. Fitzgerald sustained the objection and Flint was excused.

DAUGHTER'S DEATH TOO GREAT A SHOCK

Georgia Sunday Schools.
Marietta, Ga., March 12.—The Georgia State Sunday School association began its thirty-third annual convention here today. About 100 delegates have arrived, though many more are expected before the real business of the convention begins tomorrow morning. The convention will continue three days.

Ever notice how the average citizen has no time or inclination to remedy the conditions of the child in the slums—and how that citizen is forced to uphold the arm of the law when the slum product becomes a criminal?

ASSOCIATION AND COLLEGE ATHLETES

New York A. C. Games Tonight—
Three Corners Race at Six Hundred Yards Is Feature.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, March 12.—The annual indoor meet of the New York Athletic Club in Madison Square Garden tonight has all the features of a championship competition and as a consequence is attracting much attention among the athletes and lovers of athletic sports. The entry list includes some of the crack performers of Yale, Princeton, Cornell and other leading colleges, together with the pick of the association athletes. The event on the program that is attracting more attention than any other is the three-cornered race at 600 yards with Melvin Sheppard, J. B. Taylor and Harry Hillman as the contestants.

ARCHIE ROOSEVELT CONTINUES TO GAIN

Season.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
St. Louis, Mo., March 12.—Patrick J. Hynes, who two seasons ago pitched for the St. Louis American league team and who was signed with Milwaukee for the coming season, was shot and killed this morning in a saloon. Louis Richardson, the bartender, was arrested charged with the killing.

START THE CARS BY AID OF POLICEMEN

Louisville Street Car Company Began Operations Again Under Police Guard.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Louisville, Ky., March 12.—With the aid of strike-breakers and the protection of the police, the Louisville Street Railway company this morning opened a partial service on four lines. Trouble, however, began early and the hold-ups were numerous and but few passengers rode during the morning.

The rioting culminated at noon in an outbreak at Second and Breckinridge streets between strikers and strike sympathizers and the police and strike-breakers, in which six men are known to have been seriously injured and a score or more suffered from bruises and cuts.

Lackey Horse Auction.
Cambridge City, Ind., March 12.—The annual Lackey horse sale opened here today and as usual has attracted prominent horsemen from all parts of the country. The sale will last five days, during which time a large number of high-bred horses will go under the hammer.

KENTUCKY MINERS ORGANIZE AFTER YEARS OF EFFORT

Federation Will be Perfected Within Year. Said Report at State Conference Held Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Owensboro, Ky., March 12.—After years effort and agitation on the part of the United Mine Workers there now appears a good prospect that the miners of Kentucky will be brought into the fold of the national organization. Like the miners of West Virginia those of Kentucky have remained unorganized and the result has been a demoralization of prices and a detrimental influence on the interests of the organized miners in Ohio, Indiana and neighborhood states. At a general state conference held here today under the auspices of the United Mine Workers reports were received that the organization movement is spreading throughout the Kentucky coal fields. Delegates will be sent broadcast and it is believed that a strong state organization will be perfected before the close of the year.

Pennsylvania Federation of Labor.
Harrisburg, Pa., March 12.—Delegates from all parts of the state responded to the roll call today at the opening of the sixth annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor. The gathering was called to order in G. A. R. hall at 10 o'clock this morning by the president E. E. Greenwalt of Lancaster. The large attendance and the importance of some of the matters to be considered combine to give promise of the most notable convention ever held by the federation. The report of Secretary C. F. Quinn of Wilkes-Barre shows good progress during the year just closed. Outside the regular amount of routine business the convention will give the most of its attention to the various measures affecting labor now pending in the state legislature. Plans also will be discussed for extending the membership and influence of the federation during the coming year. It will probably be the ends of the week before final adjournment is reached.

Oklahoma Master Plumbers.
Enid, Okla., March 12.—The members of the Master Plumbers' Association of Oklahoma assembled here today for a three days' session. J. A. Hamm of this city is the president of the association and Eugene O'Connor of Muskogee secretary. A number of questions of interest and importance to those engaged in the plumbing trade are slated for discussion at the convention.

RESCUED GIRL FROM DROWNING IN RIVER

Little Polish Miss Was Going to Buy Bread When She Fell into the Water.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Green Bay, Wis., March 12.—Fred Krast, August Threau and Felix Lindsley saved a 12-year-old Polish girl, whose parents refuse to tell their names fearing punishment. She was drowning in the Fox river when Lindsley saw her and ran to her rescue and went down with the girl. Others arrived and after five minutes saved both, although they too broke through. The girl clutched a five-cent piece in her hand throughout the struggle, being on her way to buy a loaf of bread with the last cent of the family.

WISCONSIN STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

President Lyman J. Nash of Manitowoc Will Deliver Annual Address at Banquet.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., March 12.—Many prominent lawyers and jurists have gathered in the city for the annual meeting of the Wisconsin State Bar association, which opens this evening. President Lyman J. Nash of Manitowoc will deliver his annual address tonight, taking as his subject, "Some Ideal States and Some Legal Ideals." Among the prominent speakers to be heard tomorrow are John Barton Payne of Chicago, Burr W. Jones of Madison, and Gerry W. Hazelton of Milwaukee.

FRENCH BATTLESHIP IS BLOWN UP TODAY

Between Two and Three Hundred Sailors Met Death This Morning
Through Accident.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Toulon, France, March 12.—A powder magazine on board one of the battleships here exploded today, owing, it is reported, to the explosion of compressed air in a torpedo on the vessel. It is said the casualties number from two hundred to three hundred.

There were about 630 officers and men on board the Iena at the time of the disaster but many jumped into the water. The authorities believe the victims number over two hundred. Further explosions occurred and every moment debris was flying over the dockyards, a distance of five hundred yards.

The semi-official figures state it is certain over fifty of the Iena's crew were killed, 100 seriously injured and 200 slightly wounded. No news has been received of the captain or first lieutenant of the battleship and they are believed to be among the victims. Rear Admiral Manson was among the wounded. Ensign Russ was killed. The afterpart of the boat was completely destroyed.

The Iena was undergoing inspection of its machinery in the basin of the Missessy dock when the explosion occurred. The concussion was caused by an explosion of compressed air in a torpedo and set fire to the after powder magazine, which blew the whole afterpart of the vessel up. The Iena was flying the flag of Rear Admiral Nancarrow. The commander of the vessel was Captain Adigard.

TWO THOUSAND ATTENDING GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

Nearly Every State Represented At National Meeting In Pittsburg—Practical Demonstrations Made.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Pittsburg, Pa., March 12.—Carnegie hall was filled to overflowing today at the opening of the annual convention of the American Road Makers' association. The roll call showed an attendance of nearly 2,000 official delegates and they represented nearly every state from Maine to Oregon. Prominent among those present were numerous state highway commissioners, who have an association of their own which is meeting in conjunction with the road makers. Many automobile manufacturers are present, and others of road building along the most intelligent lines of improvement. The convention will remain in session several days. Uniform good roads legislation will be discussed as will also the cost of improvements and the most desirable methods. Government experts from Washington will address the meeting and there will be a number of practical demonstrations of good road making.

BELOIT COUNCIL FOR LE ROY'S MEASURE

Decided to Endorse the Action of Marquette Statesman on Public Utilities.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit, Wis., March 12.—Members of the Beloit common council went on record last night for the regulation of public utilities by the state railroad commission as proposed in the LeRoy bill now before the legislature. Although no formal vote of approval of the measure was passed, one instructing the city attorney to draw up a resolution voicing such approval in strong terms for presentation at the next regular meeting went through without a dissenting vote. Since the new merger of the public utilities went into effect about a year ago with a flamboyant reduction of rates for gas complaints have been frequent that gas bills were higher than ever. The officials of the city charge that there is too much nitrogen in the gas and that bags of sand are hung about the gas reservoir causing an extra heavy pressure. These things, they say, are what cause the bills to be higher, while in appearance the rates are lower than formerly. This is one of the conditions the council hopes will be remedied if the proposed law passes. There are also other alleged abuses in the public services rendered that the council thinks can be remedied more effectively under the proposed law than at present.

JURY TO DECIDE THIS AFTERNOON

The Merits of the $25,000 Damage Action Against the C. M. & St. P.
Railroad Co.

Judge Grimm overruled the motion for non-suit arising out of the damage action of Maud M. Taylor, administratrix of the estate of the late Joseph B. Green, vs. the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Co., at the conclusion of the arguments yesterday afternoon, and the trial was resumed. The defense concluded its case today and the closing arguments to the jury were commenced shortly before three o'clock.

STOLE THE NETS BUT PAID FOR THE THEFT

Three Beloit Men Took Chas. Kilmer's
Cary Nets, But Were Discovered by Police.

Chas. Kilmer, who lives south of the city, recently went into the carp-fishing industry in connection with his farming. Purchasing two nets of the six-by-eighteen-foot type he planted them near Beloit. One large haul of fish was obtained and shipped to New York, but last Friday when he went to make his second haul he found the nets and stakes gone. Reporting the matter to the game warden and Beloit police a search was made and one net recovered. One man was arrested and squealed on his companions, who were also taken in to custody and after settling with Mr. Kilmer to the tune of $100 and paying court costs were discharged. The police expect to land the thieves of the other net today.

HEUBLING DIES AT INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Assistant Superintendent of State Schools Passed Away After Long Illness.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Waukesha, Wis., March 12.—E. H. Heubling, aged 42, assistant superintendent of the State Industrial School for Boys, died last night. He served two terms as county clerk of Sauk county and was in business at Superior and came here with Superintendent A. J. Hutty of Whitewater. The burial will be at Baraboo.

THREE IMPORTANT WOODMEN MEETINGS CALLED TO ORDER

Fifteen Thousand Represented at Head Camp Meeting Which Convened in Lynchburg, Va., Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Lynchburg, Va., March 12.—More than 100 Woodmen of the World are attending the head camp meeting of the order which convened in Lynchburg today. The delegates come from all parts of Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia. The reports show a total membership for the jurisdiction aggregating nearly 15,000. The meeting will be in session several days.

South Carolina Woodmen.
Columbia, S. C., March 12.—All trails for the Woodmen of the World led to Columbia today. The biennial convention, the first to be held since South Carolina was organized into a separate jurisdiction, convened today with a large attendance of delegates from Charleston, Greenville and numerous other points. The business sessions of the convention, lasting three or four days, will be liberally interspersed with entertainment. A reception, banquet and trolley excursions are among the features arranged for the pleasure of the visitors.

Iowa Woodmen in Session.
Clinton, Ia., March 12.—Clinton gave a hearty welcome today to the delegates assembled from all parts of the state to attend the annual session of the Woodmen Circle of Iowa, the women's auxiliary to the Woodmen of the World. The delegates went into session in Grand Army hall this afternoon, with Lucinda Crum of Creston, presiding, and it will be tomorrow night before the proceedings are concluded. The reports of the officers show a gratifying increase in membership during the past twelve months, with the affairs of the order in a general satisfactory condition.

GERMAN OFFICER WAS KILLED IN A DUEL

Druggist Brings About Death of His Adversary in Style a La Code Monday.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Berlin, March 12.—Captain Von Bercken of the 93rd Regiment of Infantry was killed in a pistol duel yesterday on the drill grounds near Tegel, by a druggist whose name has not been disclosed. The cause of the dispute which led to the duel is unknown.

FAR NOTED LECTURE GIVEN IN EDGERTON

Rev. W. J. Dawson of England Spoke on "Savonarola, Monk, Patriot and Martyr."

The Rev. W. J. Dawson, D. D., gave his celebrated lecture on "Savonarola, Monk, Patriot and Martyr" at the Royal hall, Edgerton, last Saturday night. The lecture was one of exceptional beauty and power and was listened to with rapt attention by a large and appreciative audience. The skillful arrangement of the subject, the charm of Dr. Dawson's style and the force of his splendid eloquence made the lecture one of the most successful ever given in Edgerton.

SPEND THREE HOURS DEBATING QUESTION

Finally Decided Not to Pass the Non-Politics Measure
Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, March 12.—By a vote of 69 to 25 the O'Neill bill which would eliminate party politics in primary elections was defeated in the assembly this morning. Assemblymen Baker and Norcross of Rock voted with the eighteen democrats for the measure. The debate covered three hours of the morning session. The Milwaukee judgeship bill was also amended to make it read one judge instead of two new courts. The Life Insurance hearings began this afternoon and will last two weeks. The general opinion here is that the district attorney's opinion as to the time for election of Senator will be disregarded and the election held next Tuesday.

In Justice Court: The action of Frank Barker vs. W. W. Wells was noticed for trial in Judge Reader's court this afternoon.

What is a more natural cure than
a strong and yet healing balm which will bring life back to the deadened tissues? This is the action of the Pyramid Pile Cure. The little suppositories melt away into the feverish inflammation and swelling, and bring back the rectum to its normal condition.

This result is effected painlessly and without the loss of a moment's time

SIN'S ENORMITY

WAS CONSIDERED

FATHER M'GUIRE'S SERMON AT ST. PATRICK'S MISSION.

DELIBERATE WRONG FATAL

God Is No Respector of Persons; Even a Pope Can Be Damned to Hell.

Mon and boys, whose ages ranged from ten years upwards, crowded St.
Patrick's church to its capacity last evening, a session of the Lenten mission being held at half-past seven o'clock. Rev. Fr. McGuire delivered the sermon, considering the enormity of sin. His address was vigorous and no iniquity was spared. Sin and sinners were shown in their horrible light and the path of redemption pointed out. In part the speaker said as follows: "Man is made for an end; the first law of the heart is to seek for happiness; passions are satisfied, revenge is taken, money is stolen, all in search of happiness, but the goods of this world do not satisfy. Serving God will satisfy and He has laid out laws and precepts for us. If we follow these we will be happy; if we defy them we have the fatal power to do, we'll go to hell."

The Malice of Sin
For rebellion God cast Lucifer and one third of the host of heaven into the lake of fire. It was infinitely just that He did, though the rebellion was the act of but a moment.
The enormity of sin is not measured by the length of time consumed in commitment for murder done in a few seconds. To all these vacant places in heaven man was put in the world. But the devil, caring not how he damns souls to hell, tempted the woman by lying and since then every human being has come into the world a child of sin. Adam's sin was the very first act of "human respect."
He sinned against God rather than displease his wife. Ever since man has been drinking in order not to offend his companions, he has eaten meat on Friday to avoid the sneer of the world, he has sinned to gain the plaudits of sinners. But for these sins man is ashamed. He is not shamed by the loss of a limb, by the loss of money, by the loss of health or by disease. Adam was driven from the garden of paradise to live a life of drudgery, suffering and slavery to atone for his sin; that same tide of misery has been sweeping through every life.

Got Sent Redeemer
But to save us from hell God sent a redeemer. For one sin the angels were driven out of heaven; for one sin Adam did penance for hundreds of years; for man's sin Christ lived and died; what will be the punishment of those who have more than one mortal sin recorded against them and go before God without that wrong atoned for? The question of hell punishment being just is raised by some.
God is infinitely just. Those of many sins are sunk further into hell than those of few sins. Despite our sins we live; but for how long we do not know. The thread of a life may be broken at any time and so it is well to ask forgiveness immediately.

A mortal sin, one that will condemn a soul to hell, is the deliberate breaking of God's law. One mortal sin in a life otherwise pure is enough for condemnation; for God is no respecter of persons. Even the Pope, should he sin, is in danger of hell fire.

Small Consolation.
The man who has signed a 30-day note can get no consolation from the discovery that ink marks will last only 70 years.

Cure Piles Privately at Home
Without Pain or Operation.

TRIAL PACKAGE MAILED FREE.
The result of an irritated membrane cannot be cured with a knife, but by removing the cause of the irritation.

What is a more natural cure than
a strong and yet healing balm which
will bring life back to the deadened
tissues? This is the action of the Pyramid Pile Cure. The little sup-
positories melt away into the feverish
inflammation and swelling, and bring back the rectum to its normal condition.

This result is effected painlessly and
without the loss of a moment's time from your daily duties. The treatment is applied at home, in the privacy of your own room. The remedy is our own preparation and our name is the guarantee of its genuineness.

Thousands of cases similar to the following might be cited to prove our claims.

I tried the sample of your cure you sent me. I used it and then bought a 50 cent box. The results were immediate and surprising to me.
I assure you, I had been to a dozen of the best doctors and paid much money to them with no results whatever. I had this affliction for 20 years. I was in a hospital for a long time, and left it physically broken down. I owe you a debt of gratitude.
I believe that piles would be banished from humanity and become an unknown thing, were every one afflicted with them to but spend from 50c to $1.00 for Pyramid Pile Cure. Its speedy action also makes it extremely favorable for impatient people. I am yours sincerely, George H. Bartlett, Mattapan, Mass.

No matter how badly you suffer from piles, we want to cure you. If you will try a free package to prove its merits yourself, we will gladly send it to your name and address at once.
We will leave it to you to decide whether you can afford to discontinue the treatment. Pyramid Drug Co., 84 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich.
All druggists sell the Pyramid Pile Cure, just the same as the sample, at 50 cents per box.

EVANSVILLE PASTOR

WILL GO TO DIXON

Rev. Rolvix Harlan of Baptist Church Has Tendered Resignation and Accepted Call to Illinois City.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Evansville, March 11.—Rev. Rolvix Harlan of the First Baptist church of this city tendered his resignation as pastor of that church to his congregation last Sunday morning. Mr.
Harlan has been with this church about three and one half years and during this time has made many warm friends, not only among his parishioners but the people in general. Mr.
Harlan has received a call from a much larger church in Dixon, Ill., and in view of this fact his church here accepted his resignation feeling they had met with a great loss, as both Mr. and Mrs. Harlan were unusually talented and earnest Christian workers who have done much for the church during their stay here. Mr.
Harlan will leave for his new charge about the last of April.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Johnson are visiting Burdick Johnson and family at Eagle, Wis.

Frank Rowley of Racine and Warren Rowley of Milwaukee spent Sunday at the home of their parents in this city.

Charley Bartlett spent the last of the week in Blanchardville, Wis.

Miss Ethel Lees has been confined to her home with sickness for several days.

Miss Rose of Oshkosh is the new grammar in the millinery department of the Grange store.

John Eichen members of the K.
P. lodge of this city attended a banquet in Stoughton last Thursday evening given by the lodge in that place to celebrate their sixteenth anniversary.

Tramp, Tramp, Tramp!

Behold this pair of idle gents who sadly hang upon the fence. They're gentlemen of leisure? Yes, because they've got to be, I guess. You see, they used to run a shop; the sheriff called and made them stop. Why? Well, they weren't very wise, and so they didn't ADVERTISE.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, March 12, 1867.—The Nominations.—At the fireman's caucus last evening after an informal ballot had been taken, Sylvester Ford, Jr., was nominated for Chief Engineer of the Fire Department. John W. Belton was nominated for First Assistant and R. P. Young for Second Assistant Engineers. Mayor Palmer has given notice that the election will be held at No. 2's house on Monday evening next at 7 o'clock.

Help For the South.—We published an article yesterday giving the testimony of General Howard to the effect that in order to prevent absolute starvation in some sections of the South, Congress and the people of the North, must do something to relieve the people. Congress has already appropriated one million dollars for that humane purpose, and many of the eastern cities are contributing generously for the same object. It is now their seed time, and there is great lack of all kinds of seeds, especially corn for present planting. Nothing could be more opportune or more gratefully received than a few bushels of such corn as Rock County has in abundance, and a prominent citizen suggests that a car load, or more, be sent at once to some central place like Chattanooga, for distribution. We like the suggestion and cordially second the motion. Every effort of relief made in that direction has a two-fold tendency: it satisfies present necessities and lays the foundation for future good-fellowship and fraternity—it is in fact, a better method of reconstruction than the politicians ever thought of. Had the people of the two sections been better acquainted we should never have had a civil war and the best way to heal the lamentable strife is to forgive and forget as soon as possible. We have the very highest authority for feeding our enemies when they are hungry, and for clothing those of whom that are naked and while in their blind rage they have inflicted upon many of us a life long sorrow, yet that man is not permeated with a particle of Christian spirit who can turn a deaf ear to their cry for bread that comes up from almost every section of the South.

We earnestly hope our friend will take the matter in hand at once, and send a handsome contribution of seeds to some needy locality, that will be an evidence to the recipients that the people of the North can be as generous in time of peace as they are brave in time of battle.

Before The Footlights.

The Myers theatre has for its bill Tuesday, March 12, Madame Bertha Kalich in Langdon Mitchell's English version of the "The Kreutzer Sonata." Madame Kalich will be remembered by playgoers on account of her extraordinary success here last season in Maurice Maeterlinck's "Moupa Vanna." Harrison Grey Fiske, under whose direction Madame Kalich made her debut as an English speaking star, has selected for her vehicle this season a play in which she was notably successful while appearing on the Jewish stage. "The Kreutzer Sonata" was written especially for her by Jacob Gordin, the leading Yiddish dramatist of the time and it is considered his masterpiece. In the new English version Mr. Mitchell has retained all of the dramatic strength of the original play and has, at the same time, moulded it into the symmetrical form demanded by the rules of the modern English drama. Madame Kalich is supported this season by a very strong company which includes Theodore Roberts, Adele Block, Jennie Church, and so on.

Tracy the Outlaw.
The average western melodrama is generally a play of poor construction and consists for the most part of noisy climaxes, such is not the case however with Wild and Arnold's big scenic production of the life drama "Tracy the Outlaw" which will be seen at the Myers Thursday evening, March 14.

The author of this remarkable drama has followed very closely actual incidents in the life and career of Harry Tracy the famous Oregon outlaw whose exploits in the great North west were subjects of wide spread in the great north west some years ago. No less than five comic characters contribute various kinds of humor to the performance. A number of exceptionally clever specialties will be rendered between acts.

TWO JOIN IN EDDY SUIT

SECOND COUSIN AND ADOPTED SON ARE NEW PLAINTIFFS.

Both Declare They Believe Christian Science Leader Incapable of Managing Her Affairs.

Concord, N. H., March 12.—Fred W. Baker, of Epsom, N. H., a second cousin of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, and Dr. E. J. Foster-Eddy, of Waterbury, Vt., Mrs. Eddy's adopted son, have become additional parties plaintiff, as "next friends" of Mrs. Eddy, to the bill in equity brought to secure an accounting of her property against leaders of the Christian Science church.

Dr. Foster-Eddy says in his petition that he has "become convinced that Mrs. Eddy is, and for a long time has been incapable of intelligently conducting or receiving an account of her business and property, and that the same is being managed wholly by the defendants without giving a proper accounting thereof."

Fred W. Baker, in his petition, says that he is a second cousin of Mrs. Eddy, and that in September, 1896, he was sent by his employers to examine and repair and alter certain carriages of Mrs. Eddy. He made known to Mrs. Eddy his relationship to her, and she treated him with cordiality, inviting him to remain in her house, which he did one night. She invited him to come to visit her with his wife and children at any time. Mr. Frye, however, told him that he ought not to make that visit. During the next three years he wrote to Mrs. Eddy twice, offering to avail himself of her invitation to visit her, but he received no reply, and he believes that she was not permitted to see either of the letters.

In September of 1905 he said he decided to make an effort to see Mrs. Eddy. He went to Concord and to her house, and was refused the privilege of seeing her by Mr. Frye. He believes, he said in his petition, that Mrs. Eddy is virtually a prisoner in her own house; that she is kept secluded by the defendants, Frye and others, and that she is not capable, under all her conditions, of managing her own business.

DECIDES AGAINST RUEF.
California Supreme Court Refuses to Stop Trial of the Boss.

San Francisco, March 12.—The state supreme court Monday denied the application made by the attorneys for Abraham Ruef for a writ of prohibition to prevent Judge Dunne from proceeding with the trial pending the disposition of the writ of error to the United States supreme court by Judge Hebbard.

The decision of the court is as follows: "We are satisfied that the writ of error, if it was properly granted, does not operate as a stay of proceedings in the court having jurisdiction over the indictment. The petition is denied."

IOWA TROOPS CALLED OUT.
Militia at Manchester Protecting Alleged Robbers from Lynching.

Manchester, Ia., March 12.—The state militia was called out early Tuesday morning to guard two men arrested for blowing up the bank at Masonville March 6, from mob violence, and Sheriff John Hennessy has asked the governor for more aid. Company D is now on guard with instructions to shoot.

The action followed the ousting of the grand jury Monday, which was declared illegal, and which therefore cannot indict the men held. Angry citizens soon formed a mob and are bent on lynching the men.

TO FIGHT DUEL OVER ROOT.
American Secretary at Panama and Frenchman Arrange Combat.

Panama, March 12.—There has arisen between William F. Sands, secretary of the American legation here, and M. Rosenthal, a prominent French resident of Panama, who is engaged in the pearl trade, a personal difficulty which is about to lead to a duel. The trouble arose from some expressions used by M. Rosenthal which Mr. Sands considered derogatory to Secretary Root.

The encounter has been arranged for and probably will take place Tuesday.

Portsmouth Strike Is Ended.
Portsmouth, O., March 12.—After a conference that lasted several hours, the street car strike, started two weeks ago, was settled Monday evening and all employees will return to their places Tuesday morning. The agreement provides that the company reemploy all of the men, and if an adjustment of the grievances is not reached within 30 days the matter is to be submitted to a board of arbitration composed of three disinterested citizens.

Attempt to Kill Hargis.
Lexington, Ky., March 12.—A man disguised as a woman invaded the residence of Judge Hargis at Jackson Sunday night and attempted to take his life. June Jett, nephew of Hargis, saw the intruder and fired a number of shots at him, but he escaped uninjured.

Stranded Ship Is Floated.
San Francisco, March 12.—The ship Dirigo, which went ashore on Alcatraz island Sunday night, was floated Monday.

Authoritative Styles For Spring

Fresh From the New York Market.

THE NEW SUITS are here—the first showings from personal selections made during a recent two weeks' visit to the eastern market. This season marks no radical change in style but rather a change in materials; the favorites being soft-toned stripes and checks in light shades of champagne, tan, mode, grey, etc. Both Eton and Pony Coats are shown with the Eton in first place. The present showing consists of about fifty suits, with a hundred more to come—in fact every express brings a few.

THE NEW "WORTH SKIRTS" are here of novelty fabrics, also black and colors in panama, batiste, serge, and similar materials. Have skirts for large women with bands up to 38 inch, also skirts for girls 35 to 37 inch lengths. New waists also are on display.

LONG KID GLOVES—Have all sizes in stock of both 12 and 16 button length kid gloves in black, brown, tan, white, navy, green—12 button, $3.00; 16 button, $3.50.

Oriental RUGS.

We have with us Mooradian Bros., who will be with us several days with their entire stocks of Oriental Rugs. These people are the direct importers from Persia and Turkey. They do not buy from jobbers and are only importers on the road.

The rugs are very beautiful. The marvelous colors, the magnificent designs and the artistic workmanship will certainly please the people who love Oriental Rugs.

They have in their stock the following:

Kermanshas Sarapis
Saraks Backshishs
Tabrizs Gorovans
Masheds Faragans
Korassans Irans
Kirmans Kivas
Shirazs

and many other different kinds. There is the biggest selection that has ever been shown in Janesville.

The Prices Are Extremely Low

We invite all who are interested in Oriental rugs to come and inspect these beauties.

They also have a native expert repairer and cleaner of Oriental rugs, which business he knows from A to Z.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday, with probably rain or snow Wednesday; in south cooler tonight.

TWO PERIODS OF RAILWAY PROGRESS

"Within less than twenty years there have been two quite distinct changes of evolution of the American railway, regarded from the investment standpoint," says a New York exchange. The first of these culminated with the close of what might be called the receivership period. The net outcome of that stage of development was the location of financial responsibility, not in the administrative powers, nor in the stockholders, nor in the state, but in the banks which furnished the financial resources for the reorganization and rebuilding of these properties. From that time down to the present, practically no great change has occurred in the economic organization of American railway property.

One of the developments, possibly the most significant of all, under this system of financial control is the enormous enlargement of capitalization which has occurred from the close of the receivership period down to the present time. The responsibility for this colossal expansion in capitalized properties and credits rests primarily with the financial powers through whose management it has been accomplished. Recent disclosures have emphasized afresh the danger to the credit of American railways which lies in unrestrained liberty of capitalization, inasmuch as any outside restraint appeared, at first to be, not a few railway authorities themselves have come to recognize the necessity of a more conservative policy in this respect, if American railways are to preserve their borrowing power to an extent at all commensurate with the progress of their needs.

This seems to be the line of approach along which railway judgment and public authority are coming to a common understanding of the real needs of the situation. If so, there is early prospect ahead of finding a common basis on which our railroads may begin a new era of solid progress. Unless such a basis of credit and confidence is found, the lack of peace between government and railroads must serve as an unsettling element as long as the difference lasts.

SENATORIAL FIGHT

It would now appear as though the question of selection of a United States senator was to be put over until May. This is the consensus of opinion at the Attorney General's office. If this be so the fight will be a long bitter one. Mr. Stephenson claims to have a letter from La Follette promising him his support in the coming fight and the Marinette candidate is already in the field with headquarters at the state capital. Mr. Hatten is also present with his lightning-rod raised and Mr. Esch has come into the open with the promise of some support. Cooper and the rest of the possibilities are ready to set up their tents if their is any hope. When the time comes the vote will be taken and then the general public will be given an opportunity to learn what is going on behind the scenes. Meanwhile the Madison dope-writers are sending out all sorts of rumors as facts which bewilder the average reader more and more.

THE CONTESTS

The only two contests that are attracting the attention of the voters in the present spring campaign are those for the nomination for Mayor on the republican ticket and for city clerk on the same ticket. In the city clerk fight much interest is being exhibited. Louis Skavlem seeks to gain the republican nomination and his opponent is Arthur Badger, the present city clerk. Both men have physical disabilities which makes them equal in this respect. Both are expert bookkeepers and thorough business men. One has held office for many years and the other seeks it for the first time. Mr. Skavlem has made a careful canvass of the situation and Mr. Badger has left no stone unturned in his fight for renomination. The outcome will be watched with interest, as both candidates have warm friends who are bitter partisans of their favorite.

BE SURE TO VOTE

Citizens who seek the best interests of the city government should see to it that they and their friends cast their ballots on primary day, Tuesday, March 19th. There should be no lack of interest in the primary, as in several cases it means election and is just as important as election day itself. In Illinois there is a bill before the state legislature which if passed will place a tax of three dollars upon every citizen who does not cast his ballot on primary and election day. The government of the people, for the people and by the people that was obtained by our forefathers during the revolutionary period is sadly neglected in many cases in this day and age. Too many good stable citizens stay away from the polls, preferring to let some one else do the work of voting. If this government is to be run in the interest of a good businesslike administration of civic affairs then every citizen should state their preference for candidates at the polls. The idea that it will be a walkaway for your favorite candidate and that your vote is not needed often leads to the selection of an objectionable officer. Objectionable to the taxpayer and to the party he represents. The stay-at-home voters are responsible for this state of affairs and every voter in Janesville is urged to be present next Tuesday, primary day, to place in nomination candidates for Mayor, City clerk, aldermen, supervisors, school commissioners and justices of the peace.

This primary law, designed to close the mouths of the newspapers, is not working as well as it might in favor of the candidates. They would prefer to have a little free advertising. As it is now, they pay for it at so much per line. Then, too, it leaves the papers open to support whom they like after the primaries. No strict construction of party lines any more when a democrat can pass a republican candidate's papers around for signatures.

The Milwaukee Journal still takes the stand that Isaac Stephenson is not the man for United States Senator. Who asked their opinion, anyway? It is supposed to be a democratic paper, but it is only a supposition.

Madison is again the Mecca for the would-be office-holders. Washington is depopulated by the adjournment of congress and they are now gathering at Madison.

The Dunne and Busse fight in Chicago is interesting. Now the papers are again getting after the gamblers who rule under the Dunne administration. Even Bath House John and Hinky Dink are for him now.

The new council will elect a city health officer and a street commissioner. These two officers are important and the best men possible should be chosen for them.

Some one suggests that the legislature could settle all this dispute as to the Senatorship by electing William F. Vilas despite the fact he is a democrat.

The Milwaukee Free Press extolls Stephenson to the skies and urges his election as United States senator. Wonder why all this plus haste to award the plum to the Marinette man?

So Roosevelt has stepped into the California legislature and asked them to allow him to dictate their legislation.

Remember there is no splitting of votes at the primary. A straight republican or democratic ticket must be voted.

Out from under cover the local political fight is interesting. Very much so, indeed.

PRESS COMMENT.

The Rift in the Cloud.
Chicago Tribune: Meanwhile John C. Spooner finds a melancholy satisfaction in reading his political obituaries.

One Photograph Silenced.
Exchange: There is still some hope for the downtrodden. A photograph proprietor has been fined for providing a neighborhood with free coinage of music.

Only Fair to Remark That.
Chicago News: While scoffing at his wife's present absorption in millinery the average man is making eyes at the brilliant neckties in the haberdasher's window.

Schmitt's Bill of Health.
Exchange: Mayor Schmitt doubtless submits to the court and the people as evidence of his innocence that he went down to Washington and made the national government back up on the Japanese question.

"Skinning" the Concrete.
Kenosha Press: Cheap as concrete is for building purposes, experts claim that makers of the material are "skinning it"—that is, putting in too much sand for the proportion of cement used in order to increase their profits.

Philanthropist Alvarado.
Exchange: Pedro Alvarado, Mexico's richest man, desirous of helping the cause of civilization, has offered $20,000,000 to be used among the Yaqui Indians. It is to be used in hunting, burning, shooting, and slaughtering them.

"The Only Way."
Oshkosh Northwestern: Apparently the only way to give every senatorial aspirant a fair and equal show in the primary contest next year is to elect Mr. Stephenson this year and then let him step out at the expiration of the short term, as he has already agreed to do.

Refuses to Believe.
La Crosse Tribune: It is not impossible that Senator La Follette will pay the interest on Mr. Stephenson's financial advances to his faction, with the United States senatorship. However, in the absence of anything more reliable than the Marinette man's claims, it will be regarded as doubtful.

Bro. Starks' Little Gag.
Stoughton Hub: Bro. Starks, of the Berlin Evening Journal, hands himself this left-handed compliment in his paper of Thursday: "The editor of the Journal has been mentioned to succeed Spooner. They were talking and some one in mentioning us remarked: 'He'd be a h— of a man for the job, wouldn't he?'"

Before and After.
Wall Street Journal: Mr. Harriman

before the Union Pacific investigation, hard to get at, indifferent to public opinion, and uncommunicative in his dealings with the business world, and Mr. Harriman after the investigation, smiling, obliging, and talkative, anxious to create good will—what a testimonial to the magical qualities of one of the Roosevelt pills. The investigation has performed wonders, even in achieving this result.

Bryan's Double-edged Response.
Exchange: The editor of the Bangor Independent tells this without positively asserting he attended the Bryan lecture at Sparta. During the reception at the close of the lecture, an old woman was seen pushing her husband toward Mr. Bryan who was busy shaking hands with those who pressed forward to greet him. When the woman got in front of him she said, "Here, Mr. Bryan, is my husband. He is a strong republican, and I wish you would talk with him." The great commoner looked down upon the little old man, then shifting his eyes to the woman, said with impressive dignity: "My dear woman, I have not the heart to talk to your husband. He looks as if he had suffered enough as it is."

Exposure of the Prudential Company.
La Crosse Leader-Press: John F. Dryden and his associates in the Prudential Insurance Company are shown up thoroughly by the report of the insurance investigating committee of the New Jersey senate. It is not found that Senator Dryden is a grater. He never did anything so coarse. It is merely demonstrated forcibly and clearly that the thousands of policyholders of the Prudential—the company is one of the largest in New York—have been paying enormous sums of money annually to the men who owned the company and that as the result of exorbitant premiums Mr. Dryden, who started as a man of moderate means, had become a millionaire many times over. Mr. Dryden and two associates, the report recites, a few years ago paid $91,000 for the Prudential stock. On this investment they have voted themselves $200,000 a year in dividends, almost as much more in salaries, have sold a minority of the stock for about $6,000,000, still hold stock which they could easily sell for as much more and have built up a surplus of $15,500,000, all of which they claim is their absolute property. The surplus is increasing so rapidly that in two years, it is estimated, it will reach $28,000,000.

law within him which drove or led The Moral Law.

Wall Street Journal: Kant, the Königsburg philosopher, expressed the ennobling sentiment that two things always excited his reverence for the world in which he lived beyond anything else that he knew and understood. One was the heavens above him with their matchless harmonies, and the other was the moral men in the path of right. It is before this court of last appeal that men plead guilty and set themselves right by making restitution. The courts of law may fail to bring about justice, but the conscience which is not at ease with itself is the more effective kind of a constable. In obedience to its be-best, George W. Perkins, by refunding the campaign contributions from the New York Life, has made one of the largest additions to the conscience fund in the records of modern business. But the significance of this act, commendable as it is, is not simply personal. It marks a decided advance in political morality and corporate fidelity. It is also one of those acts that shows how effective in the long run the public conscience is as a standard of authority for the members of the community.

Down With Decent Substitutes!

Hoard's Dairyman: There has recently been tried in the circuit court sitting for this (Jefferson) county, a case involving the constitutionality of the Wisconsin law prohibiting the sale of oleomargarine when it is in imitation of yellow butter, even though sold as oleomargarine. There was some contention as to whether the color in question was sufficiently yellow to resemble yellow butter, but the main point was whether, when artificial coloring is used, the state could prohibit the sale of oleomargarine even though it might resemble yellow butter.

It was a battle royal between the opposing lawyers, Mr. J. M. Olin, of Madison, for the prosecution, and Mr. Charles Quarles, of Milwaukee, for the defense. The presiding judge, Hon. George Grimm, of this county, held the law to be constitutional and the jury found the defendants guilty.

Of course, there remains an opportunity for the defendants to carry the case by appeal to the supreme court.

of the state, and possibly, if failing there, to the U. S. supreme court, and nothing would more please Dairy and Food Commissioner Emery, under whose direction the prosecution was initiated and carried through. Fear is entertained that the oleo manufacturers, in this instance, Swift and Company of Chicago, will prefer to pursue a guerrilla style of warfare, taking their chances with the inferior courts in different parts of the state, and wherever successful thus paralyzing the efforts of the Dairy and Food Commissioner to protect the people from the assaults of the monster fraud of this age.

Both Extremes in California.
The highest and lowest elevations in this country are in California, within 100 miles of each other. The loftiest is Mt. Whitney, 14,499 feet high, and the lowest is Death valley, about 450 feet below the level of the sea.

Desert Compass.
The fishhook cactus is literally a compass in the desert. No matter how glaring the rays may be that are reflected from the soil in which it grows, it always tilts its head to the southward.

That Settled It.
A young lady being asked by a rich bachelor, "If not yourself, who would you rather be?" replied sweetly and modestly, "Yours truly."

NEW METHODS POPULAR.

In the past few years there has been a wonderful change throughout the country in the handling of milk for family consumption. It was only a few years ago when all of the milk for city and village use was delivered in bulk, but now a great deal is delivered in pint and quart bottles.

Pasteurized milk delivered in bottles and carefully sealed with pulp caps is more appetizing than when it is measured out by the milkman and put in some open dish of the consumer. The sterilized bottles can be set most anywhere where it is cool, provided the cap is kept on, and there is no reason for removing it until the consumer is ready to use the milk. With the open pan it is different; the place where it is set must be clean and cool and protected from dust which is not always easy to do. The pasteurized bottled milk can be kept in the refrigerator with vegetables, but milk kept in pans or crocks will take up the flavors of the surrounding atmosphere, and very often make it more or less unpalatable.

Pasteurization eliminates also all possible contagion and germ matter. Telephone your order or stop one of the five wagons.

William Knorr, a baker who lives at 110, Caroline street, was arrested this morning on the charge of assault and battery and incarcerated in the city lock-up. The charge against Knorr is preferred by his wife who claims that while in a state of intoxication he not only struck her but drove her and the children from the home. Since taking refuge with the neighbors, Mrs. Knorr claims to have learned that the man ransacked the house and burned up all the clothes belonging to herself and the children which he could find. This outrage is said to have been committed yesterday. Knorr came before the city marshal in fear and trembling this morning. He cringed and whimpered as the officers thrust him into the cell where he will probably stay until tomorrow forenoon when he will be given an opportunity to give an account of himself in court.

ONE OF ENGLAND'S GREATEST SPEAKERS

Dr. Dawson Will Preach at Congregational Church Thursday and Friday.

Dr. Dawson, who preaches at the Congregational church on Thursday and Friday, afternoons and evenings, is a man remarkably well worth hearing. Dr. Newell Dwight Billis, pastor of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, says of him: "Mr. Dawson is one of the striking figures of the English pulpit today. He is a versatile man; most versatile, but doing many things he does them all well. But above all else he is a preacher persuading men to righteousness and to the life of Christ." Among Dr. Dawson's books are Makers of English Fiction, Makers of English Prose and Makers of English Poetry, which taken together make the best popular criticism of English literature extant. As a speaker he is a master of the art of putting things there is a freshness and charm as well as high literary quality about his speech which captivates. He presents the truth quietly, simply and winningly. At the same time it is a strong and searching truth, full of light and hope.

ONE MINUTE, MR. VOTER!

Did you ever stop to think that for the past 40 years something has been the matter with Janesville? From a political standpoint that something has been the lack of young blood which must first enter into the municipal life of this city before she will advance for the best interests of her citizens. Manhood, character and strength of purpose are not necessarily measured by years. This is the age of the young man. William W. Watt, candidate for mayor, is thirty-three years of age and for the past twelve years has attended every session of the common council as a newspaper man. For the past year he has ably served his Third ward and city as alderman. In his behalf we now appeal to every voter for support at the primaries, Tuesday, March 19. Truly yours, "Young Men's Republican Club."

HARRY BROWN DIED IN CASPER, WYOMING

Young Man of Nineteen Years Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon—Remains Coming Here.

Harry Brown, a former well known Janesville boy, died in Casper, Wyoming, at four o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had been ill of spinal meningitis and his aunt, Mrs. Will Kobler and her son, were called to his bedside some time ago. He passed the crisis in this disease and was believed to be recovering when other complications set in. His weakened system was unable to throw off the malady and death relieved him of his sufferings. The deceased was a young man of but nineteen years and one to whom the future seemed bright. His education was gained in the public schools of this city and for a time he worked as clerk and stenographer in the office of Attorney Thomas S. Nolan. Later he secured a position in the Northwestern railway company's office at Kaukauna, Wis., and when Superintendent J. P. Cantillon was transferred to Casper he took Mr. Brown with him. He was a diligent worker and besides being one of the most promising young men in the clerical service of the road had made a social start in life. His end was most untimely and will be greatly mourned by his only sister, Miss Nellie Brown of this city, and other relatives and his many friends. Dr. Ryan & Son today received a telegram announcing that the remains accompanied by the deceased's sister, aunt and J. P. Cantillon would arrive in Janesville Thursday noon and funeral services would be held Friday morning.

Mrs. May Eddy Tarrant.

Mrs. May Eddy Tarrant, a native of Shopiere and long a resident of Rock County, passed away in Ashbury Hospital, Minneapolis, Minn., March 7. She deceased was born June 14, 1867, and married to Elmer C. Tarrant, October 12, 1885. For a few years she resided in Janesville, but to years ago the family removed to Dickinson, N. D. For many months she was in declining health, suffering patiently and without complaint, and a few weeks ago when she was taken to Minneapolis for hospital treatment. Expert medical and surgical attendance availed nothing and death ensued. Mrs. Tarrant is survived by a husband; two sons, Leonard and Roland; three brothers and two sisters, L. P. Eddy of Clinton, W. S. Eddy and Mrs. Cora Tarrant, residing near Clinton, Mrs. Mable Shimcall of Minneapolis and R. H. Eddy of Rockford. Mrs. Tarrant's remains were brought to Shopiere for funeral rites and Rev. Charles J. R. Bulley of Clinton conducted services at her old home last Saturday afternoon. Brothers of the deceased acted as pallbearers and interment was made in the Turtle Hill cemetery. The relatives present from away were Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Eddy, Rockford; Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Tarrant and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Tarrant, Milwaukee, and Mr. and Mrs. John Eddy, Beloit.

Charles Edwin Estes.

The remains of the late Charles Edwin Estes, whose demise occurred in Cincinnati early Monday morning, arrived here this noon and will be buried in Oak Hill cemetery tomorrow morning, brief funeral rites being held at the grave at ten o'clock. The body was accompanied by the deceased's sister, Miss Emma A. Estes, who is now the guest of Mrs. Helen Sherer, 204 North Jackson street. Mr. Estes was fifty-seven years of age and at one time, some thirty years ago, conducted a farm near the brickyards in the western part of Janesville. Besides his sister there are left to mourn his demise an aunt, Mrs. Dunham of the town of Janesville, and an uncle, E. W. Cole of Oshkosh.

BOYS STONING THE NEW STREET SIGNS

Complaints Have Been Received by Police—First Malefactor Caught Will Be Severely Punished.

Lawless youths who have been or shall be tempted to make the new street signs targets for stones, had better take care. The first one apprehended will be prosecuted to the limit, regardless of age, previous good character, or the influence of his parents. "There will be no compromise and the penalty for such malicious acts is a heavy one," said City Marshal Appleby this morning. "Nothing but pure devilry could prompt a boy to batter and deface these useful properties and we shall deal in a proper manner with the first one we can catch." Citizens are asked to assist the police by promptly reporting any such acts which come to their notice. The city has invested a large sum of money in these new placards. If left undisturbed they will last a long time, but if bent or broken they will have to be sent back to the factory for repairs or replacements.

EDITOR OF GAZETTE.

Dear Sir: There have been conducted in Janesville for some time a series of entertainments called for courtesy sparing contests.

They have been conducted in a comparatively orderly manner, under the auspices of a growing secret organization. There has been no complaint made by the city officials nor by individuals, but when a man undertakes to offer himself as a candidate for the office of alderman in the Third ward, of all wards, with the more or less openly avowed purpose of protecting and perpetuating these contests, it is time for the voters to take notice. Whether or not we favor the further development of the manly art in our city, it would hardly seem to the credit of the Third ward to elect a man to office who is pledged to further the interests of this enterprise.

Mr. Harry Brown is a clean, capable business man and represents no special interests in his candidacy for the office of alderman.

CHAPTER IV.

The School of Life-as-it-is.

A day or so after I lost the only case of consequence I had had in more than a year. Buck Fessenden came into my office, and after dosing me liberally with those friendly protestations and assurances which please even when they do not convince, said: "I know you won't give me away, Saylor, and I can't stand it any longer to watch you going on this way. Don't you see the old man's after you hammer and tongs? He'll never let up. You won't get no clients, and if you do, you won't win no cases."

These last five words, spoken in Buck's most significant manner, revealed what my modesty—or, if you prefer it, my stupidity—had hidden from me. I had known all along that Dominick was keeping away and driving away my clients; but I had not suspected his creatures on the bench. To this day, after all these years of use, only with the greatest reluctance and with a moral uneasiness which would doubtless amuse most political managers, do I send "suggestions" or "intimations" to my men in judicial office—and I always do it, and always have done it, indirectly. And I feel relieved and grateful when my judges, eager to "serve the party," anticipate me by sending me a reassuring hint.

I did not let Buck see into my mind. "Nonsense!" I pooh-poohed; "I've no cause to complain of lack of business; but even if I had, I'd not blame Dominick or anyone else but myself." Then I gave him a straight but good-humored look. "Drop it, Buck," said I. "What did the old man send you to me for? What does he want?"

He was too crafty to defend an indefensible position. "I'll admit he did send me," said he, with a grin, "but I came on my own account, too. Do you want to make it up with him? You can get back under the plum tree if you'll say the word."

I could see my mother, as I had seen her two hours before at our poor midday meal—an old, old woman, so broken, so worn! And all through the misery this Dominick had brought upon us. Before I could control myself to speak, Buck burst out, a look of alarm in his face: "Don't say it, Mr. Saylor—I know—I know." I told him it'd be no use. Honest, he ain't as bad as you think—he don't know no better, and it's because he liked and still likes you that he wants you back." He leaned across the desk toward me, in his earnestness—and I could not doubt his sincerity. "Saylor," he went on, "take my advice, get out of the state. You ain't the sort that gives in, and no more is he. You've got more nerve than any other man I know, bar none, but don't waste it on a fool fight. You know enough about politics to know what you're up against."

"Thank you," said I, "but I'll stay on."

He gave over trying to persuade me. "I hope," said he, "you've got a card up your sleeve that the old man don't know about."

I made some vague reply, and he soon went away. I felt that I had confirmed his belief in my fearlessness. Yet if he could have looked into my mind, how he would have laughed at his credulity! Probably he would have pitied me, too, for it is one of the curious facts of human nature that men are amazed and even disgusted whenever they see—in others

Weak Hearts

Upon the heart action depends not only health, but life. Over-work, worry, great mental effort, sickness, or any unusual strain upon the nervous system, affects the heart, by increasing its labors. In this hustling age it is not surprising that one person in four has a weak heart. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure strengthens the heart nerves and muscles and restores healthy activity.

"I wrote the Miles Medical Co., asking advice as I was suffering with heart trouble and had been for two years. I had pain in my heart, back and left side, and had not been able to draw a deep breath for two years. Any little exertion would cause palpitation, and I could not lie on my left side, without suffering. They advised Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and, verily, which I took with the result that I am in better health than I ever was before, having gained 14 pounds since I commenced taking it. I took about thirteen bottles of the two medicines and haven't been troubled one bit with my heart since. I recommend it to every one suffering as I did."

The weaknesses that are universal. I doubt not, many who read these memoirs will be quite honestly philosophical, thanking heaven that they are not touched with any of my infirmities.

It may have been coincident, though I think not, that a few days after Fessenden's call, a reform movement against Dominick appeared upon the surface of Jackson county politics. I thought at the time that it was the first streak of the dawn I had been watching for—the awakening of the sluggish moral sentiment of the rank and file of the voters. I know now that it was merely the result of a quarrel among the corporations that employed Dominick. He had been giving the largest of them, Roebuck's Universal Gas and Electric company, called the Power; trust, more than its proportional share of the privileges and spoils. The others had protested in vain, and as a last resort had ordered their lawyers to organize a movement to "purify" Jackson county, Dominick's stronghold.

I did not then know it, but I got the nomination for county prosecutor chiefly because none of the other lawyers, not even those secretly directing the reform campaign, was brave enough publicly to provoke the Power's trust. I made a house to house, farm to farm, man to man, canvass. We had the secret ballot, and I was elected. The people rarely fail to respond to that kind of appeal if they are convinced that response cannot possibly hurt, and may help, their pockets. And, by the way, those occasional responses, significant neither of morality nor of intelligence, lead political theorists far astray. As if honor or honesty could win other than sporadic and more or less hypocritical homage—practical homage, I mean—among a people whose permanent ideal is wealth, no matter how great or how used. That is another way of saying that the chief characteristic of Americans is that we are human, and, whatever we may profess, cherish the human ideal universal in a world where want is man's wickedest enemy and wealth his most winning friend. But as I was relating, I was elected, and my majority, on the face of the returns, was between 1,000 and 1,100. It must actually have been many thousands, for never before had Dominick "doctored" the tally sheets so recklessly.

Financially I was now, on my way to the surface. I supposed that I had become a political personage also. Was I not in possession of the most powerful office in the county? I was astonished that neither Dominick nor any other member of his gang made the slightest effort to conciliate me between election day and the date of my taking office. I did succeed in forcing from reluctant grand juries indictments against a few of the most notorious, but least important, members of the gang; and I got one conviction—which was reversed on trial-error—by the higher court.

The truth was that my power had no existence. Dominick still ruled, through the judges and the newspapers. The press was silent when it could not venture to deprecate or to condemn me.

But I fought on almost alone. I did not fail to make it clear to the people why I was not succeeding, and what a sweep there must be before Jackson county could have an real reform. I made an even more vigorous campaign for reelection than I had made four years before. The farmers stood by me fairly well, but the town went overwhelmingly against me. Why? Because I was "bad for business," and, if reelected, would be still worse. The corporations with whose law-breaking I interfered were threatening to remove their plants from Pulaski—that would have meant the departure of thousands of the merchants' best customers and the destruction of the town's prosperity. I think the election was fairly honest. Dominick's man beat me by about the same majority, by which I had been elected.

"Bad for business!"—the most potent of political slogans. And it will inevitably result some day in the concentration of absolute power political and all other kinds, in the hands of the few who are strongest and cleverest. For they can make the people bitterly regret and speedily repent having tried to correct abuses; and the people, to save their dollars, will sacrifice their liberty. I doubt if they will, in our time at least, learn to see far enough to realize that who captures their liberty captures them, and, therefore, their dollars, too.

By my defeat in that typical contest I was disheartened, embittered and ruined. For, in my enthusiasm and confidence I had gone deeply into debt for the expenses of the reform campaign. At midnight of the election day I descended into the black cave of despair. For three weeks I explored it. When I returned to the surface, I was a man ready to deal with men on the terms of human nature: I had learned my lesson.

For woman the cost of attainment of womanhood's maturity is the beautiful, the divine freshness of girlhood. For man, the cost of the attainment of manhood's full strength and power is equally great, and equally sad.

his divine faith in human nature, his divine belief that abstract justice and right and truth rule the world.

Even now, when life is redeeming some of those large promises to pay which I had long ago given up as hopeless bad debts; even now, it gives me a wrench to remember the cruellest chapter in that bitter lesson. So certain had I been of reelection that I had arranged to go to Boston the day after my triumph at the polls. For I knew from friends of the Crosbys in Pulaski that Elizabeth was still unmarried, was not engaged, and upon that I had built high a romantic hope.

I made up my mind that mother and I must leave Pulaski that I must give up the law and must, in Chicago or Cleveland, get something to do that would bring in a living at once. Before I found courage to tell her that which would, blast hopes wrapped round and rooted in her very heart, and, fortunately, before I had to confess to her the debts I had made, Edward Ramsay threw me a lifeline.

He came bustling into my office one afternoon, big and broad, and obviously pleased with himself, and, therefore, with the world. He had hardly changed in years since we were at Ann Arbor together. He had kept up our friendship, and had insisted on visiting me several times, though not in the past four years, which had been as busy for him as for me. Lately his letters urging me to visit him at their great country place, away at the other end of the state, had set me a hard task of inventing excuses.

"Well, well!" he exclaimed, shaking his hand violently in both his. "You wouldn't come to see me, so I've come to you."

I tried not to show the nervousness this announcement stirred. "I'm afraid you'll find our hospitality rather uncomfortable," was all I said. Mother and I had not spread much sail to our temporary gust of prosperity; and, when the storm began to gather, she straightway close-reefed.

"Thanks, but I can't stop with you this time," said he. "I'm making an inspection of the Power Trust's properties, and I've got mother and sister along. We're living in the private car the company gives me for the tour." He went on to tell how, since his father's death, he had been forced into responsibilities, and was, among many other things, a member of the Power trust's executive committee.

Soon came the inevitable question: "And how are you getting on?" "So, so," replied I; "not too well, just at the present. I was beaten, you know, and have to go back to my practice in January."

"Wish you lived in my part of the state," said he. "But the Ramsay company hasn't anything down here." He reflected a moment, then beamed. "I can get you the legal business of the Power trust if you want it," he said. "Their lawyer down here goes on the bench, you know—he was on the ticket that won. Roebuck wanted a good, safe, first-class man on the bench in this circuit."

But he added nothing more about the Power trust vacancy at Pulaski. True, my first impulse was that I couldn't and wouldn't accept; also, I told myself it was absurd to imagine they would consider me. Still, I wished to hear, and his failure to return to the subject settled once more the cloud his coming had lifted somewhat.

Mother was not well enough to have the Ramsays at the house that evening, so I dined with them in the car. Mrs. Ramsay was the same, simple, silent, ill-at-ease person I had first met at the Ann Arbor commencement—probably the same that she had been ever since her husband's wealth and her children's infection with new-fangled ideas had forced her from the plain ways of her youth. I liked her, but I was not so well pleased with her daughter. Carlotta was then 22, had abundant, noticeably nice brown hair, an indifferent skin, pettish lips, and restless eyes, a little too close together—a spotted willful young woman, taking to herself the deference that had been paid chiefly to her wealth. She treated me as if I were a candidate for her favor whom she was testing so that she might decide whether she would be graciously pleased to tolerate me.

HIDDEN DANGERS

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Janesville Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

Danger signal No. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well, kidneys excrete a clear amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

Danger signal No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the coming of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Janesville proof:

E. C. Abbott, of 273 South Main St. Janesville, Wis., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and found great relief from kidney trouble and backache. My trouble was a very weak back and persistent attacks of backache which almost kept me to my bed. The use of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Peoples' Drug Co., has relieved me of these troubles and I have every reason to recommend them."

Good Health in the Home

depends largely on its sanitary equipment. You should be exceedingly careful to have the bathroom as thoroughly modern as it is possible to make it. Of course, the plumbing of the kitchen and laundry should have similar attention.

There is one important thought for you to consider, namely: good plumbing always costs a little more at first, but is always cheapest in the end.

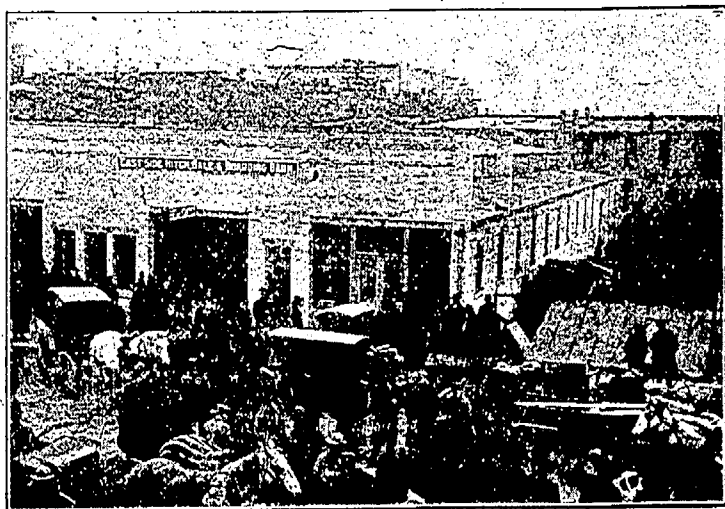

We can solve the plumbing question for you by having our skilled plumbers install "Standard" Porcelain Enameled Plumbing Fixtures.

A "Standard" Modern Bathroom will add a wealth of health to your home and increase its selling value as well.

Call and secure copies of the booklets "Modern Home Plumbing" and "Modern Lavatories." They will be of service to you.

FINED FOR SELLING BEER TO LOCAL BOY

Madison Barkeeper Had to Pay $50 for Dispensing Amber Refreshments to Harold Spencer.

Because he sold beer to Harold Spencer of Janesville and another minor named Singer, Ernest Osterfund, barkeeper for Mrs. Lydia Schmitt, proprietor of the Farmers' Home saloon in the university district at Madison, was yesterday fined $50 and costs. B. H. Graf, a civil engineering student, who makes his headquarters at the Madison Y. M. C. A. building, and a companion named Sheridan K. Atkinson, who rooms at the same place, visited the Farmers' Home saloon at the request of Prof. L. S. Smith and Atty. F. C. Weed on the night of Feb. 6 and drank several glasses of beer. In their role of "spotters" they took notice of young Spencer and Singer, engaging the former in a conversation and securing his name and address. Subsequently the "spotter," Graf, met Spencer in Science hall and on the pretext that he was going to secure an engineering position for him, ascertained the boy's age. The latter was then employed in Science hall by Prof. H. O. Hotchkiss of the geological survey. About two weeks ago he gave up this position, there being no more work to do in that line. On the stand yesterday Spencer admitted that he was but seventeen years old and that he drank the beer which the Y. M. C. A. detective accused the barkeeper of selling him. The barkeeper swore that the beverage was pop.

TWILIGHT HOSPITAL ASS. INCORPORATED

Articles Filed with Register of Deeds Today—Election of Officers March 16.

Articles of association of the Twilight Club Hospital Association have been filed with the register of deeds. There is no capital stock and it is set forth that no dividend or pecuniary profit shall be declared to any of the members thereof. The purpose is to conduct, promote, and maintain benevolent, charitable, and medical institutions and buy and sell real estate, lease buildings, etc. The first meeting for the election of officers is to be held at the city hall Saturday, March 16, at 7:30 p. m. Thomas O. Howe, George S. Parker, and Samuel M. Smith are the incorporators.

London's Smoke Travels Far. A correspondent of the Times tells of seeing the country air filled with soot 64 miles away from the metropolis. He asked a shepherd where it came from. The answer was: "We call it London dirt; in the winter when it comes up the snow here is covered with black."

Simple Explanation. Superstitious people formerly regarded with awe the turning red at long intervals of LaZe Moret, in Switzerland. Botanists have now shown that the phenomenon is due to a plant which propagates every tenth year, and which, though very minute, grows so rapidly that the whole lake is soon turned crimson.

Buy it in Janesville.
